

London-based Art2Architecture has gained planning permission for three squares in Stratford, East London.

The squares, which are for Newham Council, will be built over the coming year. They are intended to link the public space around the newly refurbished Royal Theatre and create a safe yet dynamic environment for Stratford's emerging cultural quarter.